

OnlineColleges.com Identifies Texas' Best Healthcare Schools

July 30, 2019

Distance education resource researches tuition costs, student retention and graduation rates, accreditation and more to determine 10 top online health care schools in Texas.

Foster City, CA—July 30, 2019—OnlineColleges.com recently evaluated distance healthcare degree programs in Texas and published an overview of the best online colleges for nursing, medical assisting, healthcare administration and other professional programs. With the number of Texans aged 60 and older projected to grow to 50 million by 2050, there's clearly a growing need for graduates of online healthcare schools to serve residents in the state.

Unique to Texas

- The shortage of nurses is forecast to reach nearly 60,000 by 2030.
- Texas Medical Center, in Houston, is the largest medical complex in the world, handling more than 10 million patients annually.
- A physician shortage is driving demand for mid-level healthcare professionals, such as nurse practitioners and physician assistants.

Best online healthcare schools in Texas

To help prospective students choose the ideal healthcare school for their career aspirations, OnlineColleges.com considered factors including: accreditation, tuition costs, student retention and graduation rates. The report explains the advantages of each of the following top online schools:
